black midi Releases New Track, “Sweater”

London-based band black midi follows 2019’s Schlagenheim, their “encumbered but sophisticated, led by instinct, atmosphere and rhythm” (Billboard) debut album, with a new track, “Sweater.” It was recorded with Speedy Wunderground’s Dan Carey during the same period that resulted in Schlagenheim, and was the last of the tracks recorded during those sessions. “Sweater” opens with minimalistic instrumentation before bursting with turbulent guitar and percussion.

“Each song is a labyrinth with hairpin-turn episodes and lyrics full of dourly corrosive observations.” - New York Times, #9 in the Best Albums of 2019

“Schlagenheim shows these young masters of the herky-jerky starting to grow into their studio-wizard potential.” - Pitchfork, Best Rock Albums of 2019

“ Few albums this year hit harder, or from so many angles.”
- Stereogum, #11 in The 50 Best Albums of 2019

“Schlagenheim is spiky, chaotic, and brutally exhilarating—the sound of a young band with almost impossibly broad horizons.” - SPIN, #9 in the 10 Best Albums of 2019
