Sam Evian Releases “Sold Me a Dream” \(Terry Tracksuit Edit\), A Remix of "Dream Free" By Mild High Club

Expands North American Tour in Support of Time To Melt, Out Now on Fat Possum

“Sold Me a Dream” Single Artwork

“Time to Melt aspires to address the strife of the present and sound good while cooking dinner. No short order, but with its lush sounds and warm nods in the direction of Sly and the Family Stone, T Rex, and Shuggie Ottis, he’s pulled it off.” - Aquarium Drunkard

"Time To Melt is a gorgeous expression of psychedelic pop music. It's gentle enough to soothe, but built intricately to stimulate." - Uproxx

"Time to Melt oozes serenity, yet it does so with an engaging vibrance, as funky bass lines and dreamy keys factor prominently into Evian's polished emulations of '70s rock, pop and soul."
- Paste

Today, Sam Evian releases a new track, "Sold Me a Dream" (Terry Tracksuit Edit), and expands his North American tour. Today's song is a Mild High Club remix of "Dream Free," a track off of Evian's recent album, Time To Melt, out now on Fat Possum. Even though elements of the track remain the same, "Sold Me a Dream" largely differs from the original. While "Dream Free", featuring Hannah Cohen, is lush with honeyed vocals, tight percussion, and reverberating guitar, the remix coats everything in a hazy filter. "Terry takes me for a ride in the Mild High jazzborghini," says Evian.
